Chapter 3: Blessed are the...

It seems like everywhere we go; the crowds just keep getting bigger and bigger. People want to see Jesus. They want him to heal them. People just keep coming. The crowds make it easier for me to stay hidden, though I am more and more nervous that I am going to get stepped on, which is very dangerous to a mouse!

Yesterday, the crowds were huge. It seemed like there was a steady stream of people coming to see Jesus. I thought it was going to be an ordinary day, at least like the last couple of weeks. People came to see Jesus and he healed them, drove out their demons and amazed everyone. People were beginning to expect things from Jesus. They expected him to bring healing to people. They expected him to be compassionate to the crowds who always seemed to be following him. Though this day started out like that, it quickly changed into something completely different.

When Jesus saw the crowds, he went up on the mountainside. I thought at first, he was trying to get away from the crowds of people who were following him. I knew that I could use a break, I was sure he must be getting tired. So, I thought Jesus was trying to get away. Instead, he stopped and sat down. We caught up with him and sat down and listened because Jesus began to speak.

At first, I thought maybe I had dozed off and missed something important, because nothing Jesus said made sense. As he continued to talk, I realized that I hadn't missed anything. Still, nothing made sense. Jesus said things like Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Jesus and the disciples don't seem to have much, but there is always something to eat. They aren't going without. I wondered if Jesus knew what it was to be poor. In my experience the poor never inherit anything. As Jesus continued to talk, things just got muddier. He said that those who mourn are blessed as well as those who hunger and thirst for righteousness.

As I continued to listen to Jesus, I began to wonder if something was wrong with him. He did not seem to understand the way the world works. Even I, a small mouse, who before a couple of weeks ago had never gone even a mile from home, understood that the world does not work the way Jesus was describing. It did not make sense to talk about how blessed are the merciful, the pure in heart, the peacemakers. Then when I thought it could not get any more confusing, Jesus said Blessed are those who are persecuted because of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

I began to wonder if maybe I should have stayed home. This adventure that I had started was beginning to get out of control. It was fun to witness Jesus healing people. Everyone was excited and happy. Now as we sat and listened to Jesus, I saw more confused faces than happy glowing faces. As I looked around at the disciples, I wasn't sure they understood any more than I did what Jesus was trying to say.

In fact, I think the disciples began to get worried when Jesus began to say that you are blessed when people insult you and say all kinds of evil against you. I am sure I saw a couple of them break out in a sweat. I can't imagine anyone hating these men. They are good and kind. They have left everything to follow Jesus. Why would anyone persecute them? It is nice to know that there is a reward in heaven, but I am hoping that is a long way off!

I thought maybe Jesus would be done talking, or at least stop and explain things. Instead he just kept going. He must have known we were all confused. He seemed to be on a roll and just kept teaching us things.

He told us we were the salt of the earth and the light of the world. This at least made sense to me. Of course, you would not light a lamp and put it under a bowl that would not do any good at all. If you are going to light a lamp, then you need to put it where the light makes a difference for everyone in the house. The lamp can only work if it is allowed to shine.

This time I felt like Jesus explained himself better. He told us that if we needed to let our light shine before others so that they may see our good deeds and praise our Father in Heaven. I want my light to shine. I don't want to hide under a bowl. Though I do wonder how good I am. Do I do enough good deeds to let others see God? I am just one small mouse. Can I really make a difference? How can I let my light shine?

That night as I was getting ready to go to sleep, Jesus words kept swirling around in my head. Was I blessed? What did it mean to be blessed? It seemed like Jesus' values were not the ones that I had been experiencing all my life. Jesus was changing everything. This adventure was getting bigger and bigger. As I curled up in the bottom of Simon's bag, I wondered if my light was shining at all. I spend so much time trying not to be noticed that I am not sure my light ever shines.

I can't stop following Jesus now. There is still so much I don't understand. There is still so much to see and experience. I can't wait to see what tomorrow will bring.

Malachi, Mouse Adventurer

P.S. Read the adventure for yourself in Matthew 5:1-16

Know that you are blessed. Not because of what you have, but because of the God who loves you. Let your light shine so that others can see and praise God.

April Recap of Church Celebration

On Easter morning, we had our annual Easter Egg Hunt after the worship service. Thank you to all the adults who hid the eggs – chocolate, plastic, and hard-boiled – for our egg hunters. The children completed a craft while the eggs were being hidden by our volunteers. Thank you to Pastor Brenda, Courtney Klimek, Priscilla Mills, Robin Moore, and Jackie Wright for dying the “real” eggs for the egg hunt and Linda Cook for purchasing and/or stuffing the plastic eggs and the chocolate eggs. There were quite a few children in Church on Easter morning, but unfortunately many did not stay for the hunt. Those who did, though, took home bags of eggs!
